Mrs. C. E. Lavell,

100 Walmer Road,

Toronto.

Dear Mrs. Lavell:

If I could assist you in any way to discover the present whereabouts of your husband I would gladly do so, but I do not see what it is in my power to do. I imagine that the public is so well aware of your misfortune that if any one around the University would have any information he would have already given it. I had been hoping from what I saw in the newspaper that you had some clues which may before long lead you to discover Professor Lavell. Allow me to assure you that both Mrs. Falconer and I sympathise deeply with you in your trouble, especially as we were both acquainted with your husband ?

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
